Introduction

If you drive two kilometers north from Takamatsu Danshi IC, a large plastic house will come into view. This is a strawberry farm, where you can enjoy fresh, sweet strawberries.

These strawberries are raised with loving attention, so they have the least amount of wounds and stress. In order to preserve the natural sweetness of the strawberry, they are grown using the "suspended cultivation" method, where the strawberries are suspended in the air so that they do not touch the ground. The varieties raised include the locally popular Sachinoka and Sanukihime.

Between January and the middle of May you can pick and eat the strawberries as you like. During this limited time, the sweetest strawberries can be enjoyed – this is popular among children and adults alike! (Reservation required)

In the shop, you can enjoy all types of strawberry desert year-round, and there are events being held frequently.
