Sun Port Takamatsu

The doorway to Takamatsu land and sea transport

Sun Port Takamatsu is the land and sea transport terminal where Takamatsu Port, JR Takamatsu Station and Kotoden Takamatsu Chikko Station are all located. Many large-scale facilities are lined up at this important Takamatsu landmark - Takamatsu Symbol Tower, the tallest building in Shikoku; JR Hotel Clement Takamatsu, an authentic city hotel where you can look down over the ocean; Alpha Anabuki Hall, where talented domestic and foreign stage performers put on shows; and the Takamatsu Sun Port administrative center. The Takamatsu Symbol Tower houses commercial facilities, public offices and an international conference hall. With the gourmet spot and its Japanese-Western-Chinese speciality Tenku-no-Restaurant and famous ramen shops from all over Japan, this facility is symbolic of the Sun Port Takamatsu area.

1 Red Light Tower

The Red Light Tower lights up the Seto Inland Sea, and is known as Setoshirube. This is the world's first completely glass light tower, and has a height of 14.2 meters. The 20w red fluorescent light makes use of glass blocks, and the light that it emits can be seen for approximately 13 nautical miles (24 km).
