A Takamatsu Castle ruins and Tamamo Park

Takamatsu castle is one of Japan's three water castles, and the ruins have been turned into a park. Riding in the wooden castle boat along the moat, which is connected to the ocean, is a popular outing. You can feed the sea bream fish swimming in the moat, as you take in the castle scenery from on the water.

B Yashima

Take in the view of the Seto Inland Sea and its chain of islands, all the way to the Takamatsu skyline, from the peak of this roof-shaped lava plateau. Make a wish to protect the area from natural disaster by throwing small unglazed singles in what is called 'kawarake-nage'.

C Zaigo Udon original shop, Waraya

This is an udon restaurant at the foot of Yashima. The restaurant is a restored Edo period building with a comfortable and relaxing atmosphere. The 'family udon' is most popular, served in a large, flat wooden bowl called 'tarai' - this can easily feed 4-5 people.
