Introduction

This part is a nationally-managed park, located next to Mannou Irrigation Reservoir, Japan's largest reservoir.

The mascot is the dragon that represents the Dragon God that according to legend lives in the reservoir. Inside the park there is a huge man-made waterfall. There is also a forest where bamboo shoots and mushrooms are cultivated, a hill with seasonal flowers, cycling course and a center where you can do various hands-on activities. You can even enjoy nature at several spots, including the eco-park and the camping site.

In springtime the paperwhite and tulips come into full bloom at the Haru Ranman Festa, and in the wintertime there is the beautiful illumination art of the Winter Fantasy. There are many seasonal events to enjoy.

You can spend a full day here, busy with cultural, sporting and recreational activities!
