Introduction

This art museum houses approximately 20,000 pieces of art by the world famous, Kagawa native painter Inokuma Genichiro (1902-1993). The building itself is the design of Taniguchi Yoshio (who also designed the New York Museum of Modern Art in 2004), who set out to build the world's most beautiful art museum. In the station plaza facing the museum there are many large murals and objects that were created by the artist himself.

Inokuma Genichiro graduated from Marugame High School, and studied with Henri Matisse in France. After returning to Japan he was active in such activities as designing the wrapping paper for the famous Japanese department store Mitsukoshi. He subsequently worked in New York for more than 20 years.

The museum shop sells original products and catalogs, and together with the MIMOCA cafe restaurant, is very popular.
